Armor FIA Safety Standard for Polaris Razor RZR-RR

Roll-Cage FIA safety standards built to get the approval of the Polaris Razor to the Cross-Country and Baja International Off-Road Championship.

The structure, made of chrome molybdenum steel pipes as per FIA specification allows a significant increase in values of stiffness and impact resistance, ensuring greater protection of the cockpit area.

Tests on prototypes have shown excellent resistance to impact the safety cage increased ruggedness of the original frame structure in the interior.

Supplied with a roof made of aluminum alloy, as required by international regulations and mounting kit.
